Call Me Yuri

Hi everyone, I'm Hans Yuri Ingente, but you can call me Yuri for short and welcome to my self-introduction presentation.

Get to Know Me Better

I am 19 years old, born and grew up around in Davao.
I'm also a car enthusiast.
I seek thrill and wisdom to expand and build my knowledge through experience.

What I enjoy the most

I like automotive

I like challenging sports

I like traveling

My Hobbies

- I enjoy traveling and exploring new places, experiencing different cultures, and discovering unique environments.

- Photography is one of my favorite hobbies because it allows me to capture moments, landscapes, and details that reflect my journeys.

- I also have a strong interest in cars and hope to build a project car of my own, where I can learn, customize, and create something truly personal.

Thank you, everyone.

Reflection:

I found contrast the most useful design principle because it makes text and images easier to see. The drag and drop tools in Canva were the easiest for me to use. Choosing the right fonts and colors was the hardest part. I learned that visual communication is important for sending a clear message. I also learned that a simple and clean layout makes a presentation more effective. This activity helped me improve my design skills.
